

Chris Matten - Partner

Chris Matten is a Partner in PricewaterhouseCoopers' (PwC) Singapore Financial Services practice. Chris is a specialist in risk management and provides consulting services to banks on matters of risk and capital management, as well as litigation support services in matters connected with financial products or markets. Such services include investigations, financial forensics, financial instrument valuations and expert witness services.

Chris has over 28 years experience in the financial services industry, of which 17 were spent working in various risk- and financial-control roles in banks. His work experience has taken him from the UK, where he qualified as a Chartered Accountant, to Japan, Switzerland, Australia and Singapore. Prior to joining PwC, Chris was the CFO of OCBC, a listed Singapore-based bank. His two previous roles before that were as head of balance sheet management for the National Australia Bank and group financial controller for Swiss Bank Corporation.

Chris has carried out a large number of litigation support services over the past 5 years at PwC, details of which are provided overleaf.

Chris has a BA (Hons) 1st Class from London University as well as an LLB. He is also a qualified chartered accountant and an associate member of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators
